FINDINGS OF FACT

1. On or about February 4, 2003, TSPC received an Application for Educator License Form C-1 signed by Douglas Hastings along with additional documentation to apply for a Restricted Substitute Teaching License at the High School Level.

2. In June 1993, Mr. Hastings obtained a Doctor of Jurisprudence degree from the Santa Barbara College of Law, California. The Santa Barbara College of Law is not a regionally accredited institution with the Western Association of Schools and Colleges. Part of the necessary requirements for a Restricted Substitute Teaching License is a bachelor's degree or higher from a regionally accredited institution or the approved foreign equivalent of such degree related to teaching at one or more levels.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

To be eligible for a Restricted Substitute Teaching License, Mr. Hastings must have a bachelor's degree or higher from a regionally accredited institution or the approved foreign equivalent of such degree related to teaching at one or more levels in one or more specialties. Therefore, Mr. Hastings has not satisfied the academic or education requirements established by OAR 584-060-0181 for a Substitute Teaching License.
